It was an unplanned reunion of the team behind the STEM Interface when they all decided to attend at Georgian College Orillia campus to hear Frank Nelson's speech to students and faculty.

Present from right to left are David James Watt, Social Services student and director of Beneath the Blanket, Tom Chapman, Canadian Mental Health Association, Ontario and co-director of Patching the Past, Linda Bushell Goodall, Executive Director of The Lighthouse Soup Kitchen & Shelter, Constable Julie Doucette, the Mental Health Coordinator for the OPP, Jill Dunlop, faculty at Georgian College Social Entrepreneurship Studies, and John Ironside, Producer / Director of video programming at Five Points Media and 3B Solutions.

Frank's speech brought a lot of emotion to the surface and was met with great enthusiasm, as was his big announcement.
